M. I. Powers, of the Citizens Bank, was a visitor from Flagstaff this week.

A baby girl arrived at the home of Woody Alger's the first of the week.

James Carney, of the Walkover mine, at Brownsville, was a Kingman visitor yesterday.

Harry Knight, of the Arizona Stores Company, has gone in to Los Angeles on a business trip.

Mrs Ed Williams returned a few days ago from Salt Lake, where she had been visiting with her people.

All members of the Ladies Aid Society are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. H. C. Sayre next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30

Miss Ada Walker, of Corinth, Miss., arrived in Kingman Saturday last and has entered the employ of Nickell & Co.

Rev. W. C. Merritt, of Fairmont, Cal., will preach in the M. E. church Sunday evening at 7:30. Mr. Merritt is Superintendent of Sunday schools in Arizona and New Mexico.

T. E. Pollock, of the Arizona Central Bank, was a Kingman visitor this week. He reported a heavy fall of wet snow on the San Francisco mountain during the storm.

Ray Comstock and Earl Fisher, walking from Toledo, Ohio, to Los Angeles in 110 days, passed through Kingman Jan. 30, stopping over one day. Mr. Comstock is suffering from a broken arm.

Miss Kathleen Hunter, who has been in Kingman in the employ of Nickell & Co. the past year, departed to Los Angeles last Thursday. Miss Hunter made many friends here who are sorry to see her leave.

Dr. Tilton visited the ranch home of Walter Starkey Sunday last and left a baby girl. The Dr. is evidently short of boys as he has had four calls the last ten days and in every case he left a girl, which speaks well for our new suffrage state.

While it would appear that an immense amount of rain fell during January the rain gauge at the station shows only 1.89 inches. The coldest night of the year was the 7th, when the temperature went down to 27 above.

Robert and Samuel Hamilton, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hamilton, at one time residents of Mineral Park, are new arrivals in Kingman from the southern republic. The boys are looking for positions, having been compelled to leave Mexico on account of the war.

The Supreme Court of Arizona this week dismissed the application of A. B. Fancher vs. J. A. Greele for a writ of prohibition. This is the cause that grew out of the dispute over the ownership of a cow which was threshed out in the Justice's court and later in the Superior Court of this county.

The Vallapai valley boulevard contingent are invited to take part in the work of construction tomorrow. Machines will call for everyone who expresses a willingness to take part in the work of constructing a great roadway between Kingman and Hackberry. Tools will also be furnished.

The Santa Fe is selling round trip tickets to Phenix and return on account of Order Eastern Star convention from February 9th to 12th, for 16 80$. Tickets will be on sale February 7th to 9th. These tickets are sold on the certificate plan, the holder to have receipt vized by the secretary of the convention.

The first of the Santa Fe entertainments will be filled in Kingman next Tuesday evening. Two people will compose this first contribution and they come well vouched for by the management of the Reading Room. Manager Lang will also give his usual run of pictures before the entertainment, the cost being ten cents and a reserved seat. Secure your seats at Watkins' drug store. No charge is to be made for the reading room entertainments.

A little girl was added to the home of Robert Sears Wednesday morning last.

Newton Evans, who is promoting a big land deal in the south end of Sacramento valley, was in Kingman Thursday last from Los Angeles. He expects to get his project under way shortly. He has over 100 acres in grain near the McCracken mines much of which is in a fair way to mature. With the present rainfall a crop is a sure thing.

Frank Crozier and family were Kingman visitors yesterday, returning to the ranch this morning. During the big rains of the past week a big reservoir on the range went out, incurring considerable loss to him and his partner W. F. Grounds, jr. He is optimistic over the loss, stating that the good that the rains had done to the range more than compensated for the damage done.

We are publishing today a notice from the bureau of health of the county and wish to call the attention of the public to the fact that this order will be strictly enforced. The person found violating the order will be arrested and fined for each and every infraction of the law. Strict observance of the rule will make the towns and mining camps of the county sanitary and healthy and it is up to the people to cooperate with the board in the good work.

A mining engineer is at the McCracken mine sampling that property for eastern interests. It is to be hoped that a company well able to handle this property will take it over and operate it on a scale commensurate with its well known ability to produce. With proper development this mining property should be another Bunker Hill and Sullivan. It is identical with the big Idaho property, but also has some of the richest silver ore ever taken from a mine in the county, as well as lead.

John C. Potts and J. S. Withers, supervisors of this county, spent the greater part of the week in Phenix, looking after matters affecting the bond issues of the county. A bond buyer was here last week and made a proposition to the board to take the road bond issue of the county under condition that the state would issue bonds covering the issue at a lower rate of interest and to run a shorter time. Believing that the interests of the county would be subserved by such an agreement the board members concluded to look closely into the proposition and try to get it straightened out. Mohave county needs the money for roads and bridges and we hope that the sale may be carried out as soon as possible.

The work of building a wagon road from Oatman to Topock is now under way. It is said that automobiles have already been over the road and find that with a small amount of work an excellent automobile road can be had. The government is also to aid in the building of this roadway, as it will give Fort Mohave an outlet by way of the bridge to Needles. By the building of a good roadway from Kingman to a connection with this road Kingman would become a market for the produce of the Mohave valley, as well as Needles. Only a few thousand dollars expended on the road would be necessary to put it in excellent condition. Kingman is about the same distance from the Mohave valley as Needles, when measured by way of the Topock bridge.

Fred Becker, a printer and prospector, well known throughout this county under the cognomen of "Count of Monte Cristo", was struck by a Peavine train, near Cedar Glade, Yavapai county, last Sunday, and died from the effect of his injuries a few days later. Becker was a character that is indigineous to the mining country. He came from Germany, after serving a number of years in East Africa in the German army. He picked up the printing trade and followed it to some extent. When he could get a stake he prospected the country. He was given to hard drinking and his mind was affected by it. Some years ago he went to Australia, but the lure of the American desert called him back. He claimed to be related to the nobility of Germany and that a sister was a Mother Superior of a Catholic convent in Buffalo, New York. He was a harmless fellow, and while he made few friends, he had not an enemy on earth.

F. S. Wilhelm came in yesterday from his mining property in the river range and is looking after business affairs.
